

Outside Painting

Outside painting is nearing completion, and contrasting trim color is being applied to highlight the architectural features of the fellowship center structure.

The end result is apparent in the two photos below. A new flame and cross emblem will soon be added to the end wall (below right) to complete the outside appearance.

